MERCURY DROPS AS WINTER ARRIVES

Murray-Western Game To Hold State Attention

Michigan may clinch its bid to the Rose Bowl this weekend, and Maryland can finish the season undefeated, but the main college football attraction in Kentucky will be the Murray-Western clash in Bowling Green Saturday afternoon.

In this 21 game series in which Western holds the edge 10-7 with 4 games ending in a draw, records and past performances don't mean too much. Each team will be in top shape just by the fact they're playing the other.

Murray Coach Fred Paurot says about Western's Hilltoppers: "Their record isn't impressive, but they are the most vastly improved team in the conference. They have three reasons to be up for this game: 1. It's Murray 2. It's their Homecoming 3. Coach Jack Clayton is back home from the hospital. It will be a rough ball game."

Main Street Motors Has 10th Birthday

Main Street Motors will observe their tenth anniversary this month as a business in Murray.

The firm, under the original owners Otis Patton and John Watson, started in business in the location now used by Main Street Texaco Station at 206 East Main Street.

Main Street Motors has held the Pontiac automobile franchise and the GMC truck dealership during this ten year period.

The business was carried out at the East Main street location for four years then was moved to a new and modern building where they are now located at 1406 West Main Street.

Otis Patton and John Watson constructed the new building in the fall of 1949, having it built to their specifications for an automobile dealership business. The building has 7,000 feet of floor space and has a large modern showroom for the showing of automobiles.

The firm has modern equipment on hand to take care of all repair jobs on both Pontiacs and other makes of automobiles.

Mr. Patton and Mr. Watson have invited the people of Murray and Calloway County to come by their place of business on West Main Street to see the new 1956 Pontiacs now on display.

The firm is also dealer for the GMC trucks in this area.

Murderer Expects To Go Free

DENVER UP—John Gilbert Graham's jailers reported today he appears supremely confident of securing release from the jail where he is held on murder charges for planting the explosive which killed 44 persons aboard a United Air Lines plane Nov. 1.

"He seems to feel he'll get out of the position he's in," said Capt. Neal Wright, the county jail training officer. "And he talks like he's quite hopeful of making his bond and getting out of jail."

Wright said Graham eats well, sleeps soundly, and chatted once with a guard about explosives.

He has adjusted to jail routine with almost unbelievable calm, his guards said.

To Ask Death
District Attorney Bert Keating announced he would demand death in the gas chamber for the 23-year-old explosives expert who planted the bomb in his mother's suitcase, kissed her goodbye, and sent her to her death.

Graham's bond set before the murder charge was drawn up by Keating Tuesday, is $100,000. United Air Lines President William Patterson signed the complaint which charges Graham with the murder of his mother, Mrs. Daise E. King, 54.

He will be arraigned before Judge Edward J. Keating on Tuesday, and probably will not be allowed bond.

Graham's confession, made to the FBI Monday, has not been made public. Newsman learned however that he confessed fashioning a bomb with a timing device and 25 sticks of dynamite, hid it in his mother's suitcase, and took it to Stapleton Air Field with her the night of Nov. 1.

Plane Departed Late
The plane was 35 minutes late in leaving Denver. It was only eight minutes and 35 miles north of the city when the dynamite blew the plane apart.

Graham bombed the plane to collect a share of his mother's $150,000 estate, and $27,500 worth of trip insurance he bought for $150 at the airport. But his mother did not sign the policy and it was worthless.

Captain Wright said Graham would give "no trouble" at the jail, and apparently has no intention of committing suicide. His shoe laces, his belt and his neck tie have been taken away from him, however, so he cannot hang himself.

Two Drunks Are Picked Up

City Judge Bob McCuiston reported today that two drunks were picked up last night.

No other activity was reported.

Douglas High Marks Up Win

Douglas High School of Murray spoiled the once tied and unbeaten Attucks High School of Hopkinsville, last week 19-14. Douglas, playing before the largest crowd in the history of the school, failed to fall before the onslaught of "Big Dillard, the 210 pound full-back of Attucks."

The large homecoming crowd inspired the Bulldogs to put on one of their best performances Saturday.

The game was played under the new lights at the school.

Saturday's game was the last one for seniors C. T. McGee, outstanding end on the Bulldogs' squad and Captain Tom Jackson. Principal L. P. Miller and Coach Buckner said they had nothing but praise for the whole team.

Miss Robbie Nell Skinner was crowned "Miss Douglas" and Miss Hellen Perry was named Miss "Senior." Pat Buckner was crowned "Miss Junior."

Minimum Foundation Expected To Be Challenge To Chandler

By TOM E. GISH
United Press Staff Correspondent

FRANKFORT, Nov. 16 UP—The price tag on Kentucky's Minimum Foundation Program for Education has gone up and officials warn it will keep climbing indefinitely, posing a major challenge to Gov.-elect A. B. Chandler.

This year, the state appropriated $5 million dollars to the program, but that sum fell 18 million short or requirements.

Now, state Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler says it will take not 18, but 25 million dollars addition to finance the program fully next year—a total of $8 million dollars.

And the year after that, the total cost will jump another five million dollars, to a total of $13 million in state money.

If Butler's figures are correct, they mean the state Legislature must appropriate a total of 121 million dollars for the foundation program in the next two years. That is 51 million dollars above the current rate of spending.

Chandler said repeatedly during the recent election campaign that a fully financed foundation program would be the No. 1 item in his budget.

Butler explained the cost of the program grows each year because of "more children, more and better trained teachers, better services for children, and a higher percent of attendance."

Each time 30 additional pupils enroll in the schools a new classroom unit is created. Each new classroom unit costs the foundation program $4,000 a year.

Aside from the normal increase in school population, there is the likelihood the foundation program itself will lead to increased attendance. Local school officials, realizing that each additional pupil means more state aid, will step up their efforts to get school-age children into classrooms and keep them there.

Stanley Hecken, director of research for the Department of Education, said the program will continue to grow in cost at the rate of about five million dollars a year for an indefinite period—as long as the school enrollment continues to increase.

Butler, in a recent speech at the East Kentucky Education Association meeting at Ashland, pointed out that Chandler is committed to "the full financing" of the foundation program.

Butler stated that if Chandler's election "can be interpreted as a clear indication that the people of Kentucky have faith in his ability, integrity, and determination to carry out his commitment."

Butler warned, however, that school people should be on guard against attempts to change the program as a means of reducing costs.

"Herein lies the danger," he said, "the danger of changing the law to meet a cost figure. The foundation is a dynamic, not static. The cost of the program is based on need—the greater the need the greater the cost."

It will be up to the Chandler administration to meet this constantly growing demand for funds to finance the minimum foundation program, without resorting to a general sales tax.

Dr. Chiles Will Show Slides

Dr. H. C. Chiles will show slides of his trip to the Holy Land at the supper meeting of the Young Women's Class of the First Baptist Church to be held on Thursday, November 17, at 8:30 p.m. at the Student Center.

Mrs. Castle Parker, president of the class, urges all members and their husbands to attend this first dinner meeting of the new church year to see these interesting pictures by the pastor of the church.

Landscape Architect To Make Talk Here

N. R. Elliott, Professor of Landscape Architecture of the University of Kentucky, will give a lecture in the basement of the Murray State Library at 1:00 p.m. on Thursday, November 17.

Consider this your invitation to attend this meeting if you desire information on landscaping. The County Extension Office feels we are fortunate to have him after trying for three years to get him. Take advantage of this opportunity to inform yourself on beautifying your home.

Evaluation To Be Made In Exercise

FORT POLK, La., Nov. 16 UP—High Air Force officers began today to evaluate the potential destruction in a future war gathered from first day maneuvers of Exercise Sagebrush.

The operation, largest war games since World War II, opened Tuesday with jet bombers raining mock atomic destruction on 18 air bases in 10 states.

It took just 18 small jet bombers to drop the equivalent of more than 350,000 tons of TNT on airfields.

For comparison, the Air Force dropped 407,000 tons of conventional explosives in the entire Korean War. It took 250,246 individual aircraft flights and the job was spread over three years.

The massive atomic assault launched by elements of the U.S. Tactical Air Command in Exercise Sagebrush was but a fraction of the nuclear explosive power available to the U.S. Strategic Air Command for prevention or winning of a global war.

TAC units assigned to the "aggressor" force lashed out from Texas bases at the U.S. forces' air bases from Virginia and Florida to Louisiana and Arkansas.

"Aggressor" ground forces moved forward in Louisiana behind a barrage from 260 mm. atomic cannon delivering thousands of tons of TNT equivalent.

No immediate assessment was available as to the damage done in the ferocious, surprise attack.

The first few hours of the exercise, which runs until Dec. 4, also revealed the almost impossible defense problems of an air commander attacked at short range without warning.

The B57 light jet bombers used by the aggressor went through the U.S. forces' other defense ring in a breeze, skimming in low where radar detection is tough.

They could then climb to high altitude to drop their bombs or use the low-level, toe-bombing technique which enables a crew to put an A-bomb on a target and clear out unharmed.

BOW HUNTERS TO MEET

The Calloway County Bow Hunters Club will meet tonight at 7:30 at Albert Enix's Carpenter shop on the Cohod Road. Members are urged to attend as plans will be discussed for a turkey shoot Thanksgiving.

High Winds Drop Temperature Here Last Night; Some Rain

By UNITED PRESS

An overcast, cold wave, with temperatures as low as 20 degrees moved toward Kentucky today, as the state's Ohio River counties were buffeted by high winds and torrential rains in the backlash of three twisters which struck central and southern Indiana.

A temperature drop of more than 50 degrees was predicted for the Blue Grass State today, as morning temperatures in the low 70s were scheduled to fall to 15 degrees below freezing by tonight.

Three homes were leveled and 18 damaged at Evansville, Ind., across the Ohio River from Henderson, late Tuesday as a violent storm dumped 131 inches of rain on the area.

Three tornadoes also struck farther north in Indiana and storms and high winds buffeted Louisville, Covington and Newport.

Louisville, which was hit by another torrential rain at dawn today, already was well soaked from Tuesday night's rains. Water was left standing in many streets as sewers became choked with fallen leaves.

Campbell and Kenton counties reportedly were the Kentucky areas hardest hit in Tuesday night's storm.

The storm, accompanied by 45 mile per hour winds, broke windows in homes and stores, flooded basements, downed trees and played havoc with communications lines.

Traffic was snarled in the northern Kentucky area as electrical service was temporarily halted and traffic lights failed to function.

Residents of outlying areas reported hailstones "as big as golf balls" fell during the height of the storm.

Tornado warnings Tuesday were issued along a belt from Sherman, Tex., to Bowling Green, Ky., but the Weather Bureau at Louisville said no tornadoes were reported in Kentucky.

Tuesday's high of 77 at Louisville broke a 24-year record for a Nov. 15 set in 1931. The unusually warm temperatures prompted three University of Louisville students to don swimming suits for a chilly dip in the Ohio River.

A wild storm ripped up the nation's midsection, spewing tornadoes in three states, and pounded the Ohio River Valley with heavy thunderstorms today.

To the West, a long-delayed cold wave tracked out of the northern Rockies and ran chilling fingers through the northern plains.

Another storm center rolled out Missouri into Illinois and Wisconsin.

At least one person was killed and 21 were injured Tuesday night when tornadoes and devastating wind storms hit communities in Arkansas, Indiana and Ohio.

Indiana got the worst buffeting when at least three twisters struck at Winchester, the south side of Indianapolis, and at Gentryville. Six persons were injured, one seriously, at Winchester. All power and telephone communications were ripped down at Gentryville, while the Indianapolis twister caused only minor damage.

Stevenson Begins His Campaign

By TOM NELSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO UP—Adlai Stevenson today announced he is starting his campaign for the presidency by entering the Minnesota presidential primary.

Stevenson appeared before a national political figures to take charge of his effort to win the Democratic nomination at the Chicago convention next summer.

At a news conference Stevenson said his decision announced Tuesday, to run again for president was made without any consideration of the effect of President Eisenhower's illness.

He said he did not make his announcement earlier "mostly for personal reasons." However, he added, he wanted to be "quite sure of certain regions and certain individuals" before throwing his hat into the ring.

Appointed as Stevenson's pre-convention campaign manager was James A. Finnegan, secretary of state in Pennsylvania. As executive director for Finnegan, Stevenson named Hyman B. Raskin, of Chicago, a former member of the Democratic National Committee and a law partner of former National Democratic Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell.

Stevenson also said that two leaders in his 1952 campaign would be active this time. He named Wilson Wyatt of Louisville, Ky., who was his personal manager in 1952 and Mitchell.

Advice And Counsel
Stevenson said that he is counting on Wyatt and Mitchell for "valuable and indispensable" advice and counsel again.

The decision to enter the Minnesota primary was made to meet the time requirements of Minnesota law; Stevenson said. He disclosed that he had notified the Democratic Farmer-Labor Party of Minnesota by letter that he is accepting its invitation to enter the primary.

In reaching his decision to run again, Stevenson said "during my travels in 1954 raising money for the Democratic National Committee and speaking coast to coast in the congressional campaign, I discovered a surprising interest in my being a candidate again."

The Zeta Department of the Murray Woman's Club will meet Thursday, November 17, at 8 p.m. at the club house instead of the regularly scheduled date.

Mrs. A. D. Wallace, chairman of the department, urges all members to attend and please note the change in date.

WISHFUL THINKING OVER

If anybody can be blamed for mistaking the Russian
"new look" for a genuine desire to promote world
peace it certainly isn't President Eisenhower, Secretary Dulles or Secretary Wilson.

The President went to Geneva last July and in less than five minutes after the "Summit Meeting" convened he told Russian and British rulers "Number One aim of the United States is a re-united free Germany."

As proof of our desire to limit armaments he proposed inspection teams from other nations to visit the United States, and teams of our experts to visit Russian and British military installations.

The Russians turned thumbs down on the inspection proposal, but their smiling attitude led many people in this country to believe the new Russian government had undergone a change of heart and German unity would be considered.

The meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers which was arranged at the July conference, resulting in confusion and misunderstanding because of a flat refusal by Russia to re-unite Germany on the basis of annexation of West Germany to Communist East Germany, and a deliberate dead-lock over further disarmament talks, it seems the whole matter of disarmament will be turned back to United Nations.

After the July "summit conference" a wave of optimism swept this country and Congressmen, Senators, newspaper men and farmers headed for Soviet Russia in unprecedented numbers, seemingly hoping a new day had dawned behind the Iron Curtain. The belief was strengthened because the Russians, and their Communist government officials, seemed to be taking a renewed interest in us also to believe they could "co-exist" with us, after all.

All such optimism has been shattered by the Russian attitude at the Big Four Geneva conference, for they have never displayed a more nasty disposition since the cold war started in 1945. They still hate us, it seems, and they have never relented in their determination to extend their revolution to encompass the globe, as they are now shipping arms and ammunition to Egypt.

Since our relations are deteriorating it is well to recognize those forces and individuals who have been inclined to go "overboard" since the Russians started smiling. Also, we should begin publishing lists of those who "led to Moscow" in the late summer and early fall expecting to be welcomed with open arms. Read what they say about the friendly spirit they encountered everywhere.

Then consider the official attitude of the Eisenhower Administration and contrast it with the "hail fellow, well met" personality of the left wing press and the "liberal" who have always thought we could "trade-with Russia" and even referred to the late Joseph Stalin
and his "peace" as "wise."

President Eisenhower hasn't retreated an inch from his position stated at Geneva last July that a re-united Germany is the Number One aim of the United States, and that Russia must agree to it before disarmament can be considered or before we can agree on measures to end the world hunger for.

Mr. Dulles said at the Big Four conference of ministers to re-unite Germany and Molotov flatly refused it. He said the Russian position was "no room to doubt it was the Russian position."

Our own plan is to approve re-armament of West Germany, and his process has already started, even though it is on a small scale. Of the first 173,000 volunteers for the draft, more than 10,000 are youngsters.
142,000 are in the ranks of World War Two. This is understandable, it doesn't give Western Europe much hope for peace.

Even so, the "peace" has been the end of the line so far as peace is concerned. The world is wise to them and from it doesn't follow them. Interest is growing throughout Europe, Europe and while a united front against them is possible because of domestic affairs in other countries it is becoming more apparent that revolution on the Communist pattern are peering out.
Indeed the right class seems to be the one now on the march.

TV Killing Off Comics At High Rate

By WILLIAM EWALD

United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — The men who
have killed this nation with
laughter are slowly being polished
off by TV themselves, according
to TV comic Jan Murray.

"I'll be shooed off for a while," says Murray. "I'll take about 10 years. But the era of the great clowns is ending. Guys like
Jimmy Durante, Milton Berle, Bert
Lahr, Phil Silvers and Jackie
Gerson are the last of their line."

"Instead, we're heading for a
new type of comedy, which is less
robust, not as broad in their approach. They'll be the kind of performers who can act in a skit or
sit behind a desk and show charm
and a little wit."

Murray in show business for 20
years and currently emcee of ABC
TV's "Dollar A Second," pinpointed
two reasons for the decline of the clown.

No Place To Learn
"We're not going to get any new ones," he said, "because there's no place for them to learn and
develop their talent. There's no
vaudeville, little burlesque and a few night clubs in which they can
practice."

The other reason is television.

"The new TV comics, said Murray, also are dropping into this pattern. 'George Gobel and Johnny Carson, both of them funny guys,
are a couple of good examples.
Neither is a broad comedian.'"

Murray, emphasized that he was not taking sides, although he himself was schooled in the old tradition.

"The whole development is just a matter of necessity," he said. "I saw it coming four or five years ago and began looking around for an antidote to the new type of comedy."

The new TV comics, said Murray, also are dropping into this
pattern. "George Gobel and Johnny

TV Killing Off Comics At High Rate

By WILLIAM EWALD

United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — The men who
have killed this nation with
laughter are slowly being polished
off by TV themselves, according
to TV comic Jan Murray.

"I'll be shooed off for a
while," says Murray. "I'll take
about 10 years. But the era of the great clowns is ending. Guys like
Jimmy Durante, Milton Berle, Bert
Lahr, Phil Silvers and Jackie
Gerson are the last of their line."

"Instead, we're heading for a
new type of comedy, which is less
robust, not as broad in their approach. They'll be the kind of performers who can act in a skit or
sit behind a desk and show charm
and a little wit."

Murray in show business for 20
years and currently emcee of ABC
TV's "Dollar A Second," pinpointed
two reasons for the decline of the
clown.

No Place To Learn
"We're not going to get any new
ones," he said, "because there's
no place for them to learn and
develop their talent. There's no
vaudeville, little burlesque and a
few night clubs in which they can
practice."

The other reason is television.

"The new TV comics, said Mur-

Communist Leader Seeks Law Revision

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP) —
The lawyer for Pennsylvania Communist leader Steve Nelson went before the Supreme Court today to urge the repeal of state anti-subversive laws.

Herbert L. Thatcher, prominent Washington labor attorney, contends that only the federal government, through the 1940 Smith Act, has the power to punish persons who conspire against the U.S.
government.

Nelson, 53-year-old Pittsburgh carpenter, told reporters he is at present a "leader" in the party
but does not hold his former position of chairman for the Western Pen-sylvania branch.

He was sentenced to 20 years in jail three years ago for violating Pennsylvania's 1919 Sedition Law.
Nelson also has been convicted in federal court and sentenced to five years imprisonment in a Smith Act prosecution. He is now free on bail in both cases.

Both the Smith Act and the Pen-sylvania statute make it a crime to conspire to teach or advocate the violent overthrow of the federal government.

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court
last year reversed Nelson's conviction and threw out the state law on the ground that the Smith
Act superseded state sedition laws.

The attorney general of 27
states joined Pennsylvania in protesting the decision. Louis C. Wyatt, New Hampshire attorney general, was named to represent the interested states at the high court hearing. He takes the position that the states have the right to protect themselves against Communist uprisings, by enacting laws
of their own.

Miss Frances Lee Farmer Becomes Bride Of Bob Goebel Neale In Church Ceremony

Mrs. Bob Goebel Neale

The sanctuary of the First Methodist Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Frances Lee Farmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stark Farmer, to Bob Goebel Neale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Neale.

Rev. Paul T. Lyles, minister of the church, read the impressive ceremony on Saturday, November 12, at four o'clock in the afternoon before an assembly of relatives and friends.

The church was beautifully decorated with a background of hollyhock which came to a peak in the choir loft. This followed the Gothic lines of the arch covered with white chrysanthemums which were garlanded with greens and white chrysanthemums to the heavily flower arrangements on each side of the arch. An arrangement of white gladioli and chrysanthemums was placed behind the flower covered arch. The glow of burning tapers in the cathedral seven-branched candelabra enhanced the wedding scene.

Mrs. Richard Fretwell, organist, and Mrs. Joe Dick, vocalist, presented a program of nuptial music. Selections by the organist were "Liebestraum" by Liszt, "Ave Maria" by Schubert, "Benedictus" by Handel, and "Oh Promise Me" by DeKoven. Mrs. Dick sang, "I Love Thee" by Grieg and at the close of the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte. The Bridal March by Wagner was used for the processional and Mendelssohn's wedding march for the recessional.

Bride's Dress
The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of lace and net over satin, which was fashioned with a very full skirt worn over hoops with the lace triangular shape coming to a point at the waist. The bodice was fashioned with a low scalloped neckline above which was attached a fitted neckline of illusion and the long sleeves came to a point over the hands. Her chapel length train of illusion was attached to her matching headpiece. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

She carried a beautiful cascade design of lilies of the valley centered with a white orchid tied with white velvet tubing which was attached to a white maribou feathered muff.

Attendants
Miss Claudia Ann Farmer, cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor. Misses Patsy Lou Rowland, Betty Carolyn Thurmond, and Betty Lou Mayer were the bridesmaids.

The attendants wore moss green Italian imported velvet and a lilianna length dresses featuring low V-necklines with very full flared skirts worn over hoops. They carried cascade designed bouquets of fuchsia chrysanthemums and yellow roses tied with green velvet ribbon attached to green velvet muffs. The attendants wore a half of green velvet and illusion gathered in the back with clusters of sweetheart roses.

Charles Whitnell was best man for Mr. Neale. The ushers were Charles Mercer, Bill Sledd, and Jerry Don Neale.

The bride's mother chose to wear for the wedding a wine chrysanthemum dress with pink accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a periwinkle blue lace dress with matching accessories. They both had corsages of pink carnations and pink bouillif roses.

Reception
Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of Mrs. H. B. Bailey, Sr. on Olive Street. Mrs. Bailey received the guests at the door while Mrs. Beale Outland and Miss Catherine Purdom were hostesses in the living room.

The bride's table, overlaid with a green net cloth, was beautifully appointed with bouquets of yellow sweetheart roses in the top of the two epergnes flanked by burning tapers. The cake was garlanded with roses and spengri and the cake knife was also tied with roses. The buffet was adorned with an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums. A crescent shaped bouquet of roses and scotch broom was placed on the mantle.

Mrs. James Thurmond presided at the punch bowl while Mrs.

Gingles Wallis served the cake. Others assisting were Mrs. John T. Irwin, Mrs. Autry Farmer, Mrs. Noel Melugin, Mrs. H. B. Bailey, Jr., Mrs. Herbert Dunn, Mrs. Kirk Pool, Miss Katie Bailey, Miss Ann Dunn, and Miss Peggy Sue Shroat.

Miss Carolyn Wallis kept the register which was decorated with a large size gladioli.

Each one assisting wore corsages of gardenias. Mrs. Bailey, Sr., had a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Neale left immediately following the ceremony for Lexington where they will be at home at 124 Pennock Pk. For traveling the bride wore a dark brown and white wool tweed coat sheath dress fashioned on straight lines with buttons down the front and a shawl collar. Her accessories were dark brown and she wore a white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Rehearsal Dinner
The rehearsal dinner was held on Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Farrell, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Neale, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitnell, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Bailey, Sr., Rev. Paul T. Lyles, Dan Cain, Bill Sledd, Jerry Don Neale, Charles Mercer, Misses Ann Farmer, Patsy Rowland, Betty Mayer, Mrs. Ed Huie, and Betty Carolyn Thurmond, the bridal couple, and the attendants in a silver compe. ### FIRST THINGS FIRST

BOISE, Idaho — Dr. L. J. Anderson's Labrador retriever, Dan McGrew, probably saved the lives of his master and three other duck hunters Monday by "biting" help when their aluminum boat capsized but Anderson isn't too happy with the dog's emergency procedure.

In the first place, Anderson said, it was the dog that upset the boat by getting excited when a duck hit the water nearby.

And in the second place, he said, the dog first rescued one by one nine dead ducks that had been dumped into the water before he ran up and down the bank to attract attention.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Dunn graduated from Almo High School in the class of 1955. They left immediately for Detroit, Mich., to make their home.

Wilson-Lovett Vows Are Solemnized In Corinth, Miss.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Gerald Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Lovett, to Brooks Duncan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Duncan, Monday, November 7, at Corinth, Miss.

The bride wore a grey suit, black accessories. The couple was unattended.
